

Prosperity Class I

Week II.

1. In what way has your lack of prosperity in the area that you have experienced it affected how you feel about yourself?

Now, begin thinking of yourself as you “really” are . . . an incredible spiritual being of God, endowed with the most powerful and unlimited Love, God’s Love. When we truly embrace or keep our focus on this Love we can then overcome any error, mistake or trauma of the past or the present.

“The Universe will respond to the nature of your song!”

When we hold on to a difficult past, or illusions of the present, or any type of fear . . . we are then continually manifesting those negative thoughts or that which we fear, and pushing away those things that we truly desire in our lives.

3. Can you identify a particular area or areas where you have experienced a lack of prosperity, more than one time in your life?

Life is a school, The great schoolmaster knows just what problems we need to keep us alert and to bring out the wonderful qualities that the Spirit within has measured out for us to come up to...

2. What are the wonderful qualities that Spirit is asking to be brought forth through your Prosperity challenge or challenges? (Close your eyes for a minute and let the answer to this question come to you.)

Share your homework from last week with your partner or. group. Or share from your heart what you truly desire for your life:

Whenever any fear, anxiety or sadness overwhelms you this week, don't let it consume you. Instead, keep your focus on your positive, prosperous story you wrote as homework last week and align your vibration with well - being, and you will begin to notice more peace and joy in your life.

Homework:

For this week, bless all people and situations that seemingly feel negative to you. Notice how blessing a situation can change your perception and the situation for the better.
